

Increase your ability to win work and grow in hard times

The Milton Keynes 'mk:50 club' in conjunction with 'Constructing Excellence in the East of England' welcomed 62 delegates to the free Win Work event held at The Forest Centre, Marston Vale on 13th March 2009 from 8.30am-1.30pm. The event offered an excellent opportunity to hear more about six major construction topics, to meet the presenters and network with industry professionals.

We sought feedback from those attending event and have reported the results below.

1. Attendees were asked to rate various aspects of the Win Work event from organisation and topics through to the presenters?

2. Attendees shared what they enjoyed most about the event:

- "Opportunity for networking and new information"
- "Finding out about key initiatives going on in the East eg Build the east, compete for etc"
- "The enthusiasm of the presenters"
- "It was informative, straight forward and well presented"
- "The wide range of topics relating to one major issue"
- "Meeting people from different disciplines and industry groups"
- "Good to get a chance to meet suppliers"
- "Network opportunity, all useful topics and meeting new sources of tendering"
- "Build the East and Compete for session"
- "The brown field/contamination talk"
- "I found the health and safety presentation most useful"

Our thanks to the East of England Development Agency for providing the event funding
